

Freedom with Responsibility

Montessori schools offer Freedom with Responsibility. Students have the freedom to choose where to work and with whom, and are given freedom to prioritize their curricular studies. The Classroom Guide supports the flow and tone of the learning environment through careful observation of each student's level of independent function. Students who demonstrate the ability to make appropriate work choices are able to exercise more freedom in a Montessori classroom, whereas the Classroom Guide may limit a student's range of choices if s/he observes a lack of scholarly responsibility.
