Subject: Important Links

Greetings Manatee Families,

I hope you all had enjoyable weekends ~

Here are important links for upcoming Parent/Student/Teacher Conferences as well as links to cover potential volunteer service hours doing our weekly laundry or contributing to our weekly snack menu.

I have also added the link to our Amazon Wish List, as requested, because I am aware of how easily past emails with this type of information can get lost amongst new incoming mail:

I would like to send a special thanks to all who have contributed to our beautiful new fish tank ~ it is not only educational, the students love to refocus by watching our peaceful aquatic environment.

I have attached a picture of our 75 gallon "river bed," so you can understand the student's enthusiasm ~ it's a wonderful thing to witness. Thank you!

A few GeoBee notes:

Your Manatees have beautiful Solar System Materials. There are 13 different celestial bodies to study for the GeoBee.

- Level 1 students are asked to identify each body and their place in our Solar System; totaling 13 questions for pledging.
- Level 2 & 3 students are asked to identify each body, know their place in our Solar System, and spell each correctly; totaling 26 questions for pledging.

On another note:

We have limited communal yoga mats for class here at school.

Purchasing a clean, new yoga mat for your Manatee's weekly class might be a nice consideration (if you haven't already bought one).

Ross or TJ Maxx most likely have some for reasonable prices.

Wishing you Peace, Love, and Happiness,

Kate Barrow, Ed. M.
