Subject: The last week of School before Winter break

Dear Seahorse Families,

It has been a while since I write an email to you. I hope all is well with you and your family and getting ready for the winter break and celebrating the holidays!

There have been lots of 'works' happening in our Seahorse classroom, including social, emotional, and academics. Children are consistently normalizing at their own pace. Please check our classroom photo album on Google Photos. I have uploaded about 800 photos to our album!

In-School Arts and Crafts Show:

Tomorrow our NJHS students from the middle school display handmade arts and crafts for sale during school time. We plan to take our Seahorse students to see all their handmade items. The items they made are amazing, and most of the things are a dollar each. If you want your child to buy any, please send the money in a sealed envelope, and we will help them get the one they want from our middle schoolers. Please see the attached image for some of their items.

Tomorrow is a half-day (noon dismissal), and we are not offering childcare as we are closing the school for winter break.

The following message is for our VPK families. I am copying the message from Ms. Lynn's newsletter. Thank you for your corporation.

"VPK Attendance Reminder

Attendance records are used by the Early Learning Coalition to determine our funding, and parent/guardian signatures are the method used for confirming VPK attendance. Before leaving for the Winter Break, parents of VPK students are asked to please make sure to sign out on Friday as we need to turn in our records for December. "

We will say goodbye to our lovely friend Nicolas(Nico) tomorrow as his family moves from Key West. We will miss Nico and his family.

We appreciate your continuous love and support. We wish you the best holidays, Merry Christmas, and Happy New Year!

After the winter break, we will meet you in a new, healthy, and peaceful year!

Thank You,
Ms. Karthi
